INSURANCE DIVISION

The Bureau of Insurance was established by legislative enactment on March 21, 1873. From that date to the year 1913, the State Treasurer was ex-officio Insurance Commissioner. By Chapter 1, House Bill No. 55 of the General Assembly of 1913, the offices of the State Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner were separated. The Act created a separate Department of Insurance and provided for the qualifications of the Commissioner and his appointment by the Governor for a term of four years. Public Chapter No. 311, Senate Bill No. 1038, Public Acts of 1983, changed name and designation of the Department and Commissioner to the Department of Commerce and Insurance and the Commissioner of Commerce and Insurance, effective May 17, 1983.

The Insurance Commissioner's report for the calendar year 1990 includes statistics compiled from abstracts of the Annual Statements and is published in tabular form, giving analysis, classification and summary of items comprising the Assets, Liabilities, Surplus, Gain and Loss Exhibits. The figures given of companies of Tennessee and other states and countries are those submitted by the companies in their annual statements under oath, except where changed by the Department audit or by request of the companies. The annual statements and schedules of all companies are on file in the offices of the Insurance Division subject to public inspection.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

This Section, consisting of the Assistant Commissioner for Fire Prevention and his administrative and legal staff, performs the executive, administrative, and legal duties related to the operation and coordination of the various sections of the Division of Fire Prevention. These duties include planning goals and objectives for the Division; legal opinions; procurement of equipment and supplies; personnel management; collection, analysis, and dissemination of fire data; public fire education and information; and serving as liaison to local fire departments.

The Administrative Section received over 45,000 fire incident reports during 1990. Fire departments from 212 cities and counties use the computerized Tennessee Fire Incident Reporting System (TFIRS) to report their fire data to the State. Fourteen fire departments were added to the system during 1990.

A progressive public fire education and information program is operated in cooperation with local fire departments. During 1990, this program reached approximately 1.5 million people in the 95 counties of Tennessee.

A film library is maintained by the section. The library consists of 130 different 35mm slide, video, and 16mm film presentations. The slides and films cover many subject areas in fire prevention, education, training, and fire safety. The slides and films are loaned free of charge to fire departments and other fire safety groups for use in promoting or teaching fire safety. At any one time, over 40% of the selections are checked out with particular high demand during fire prevention week in October.

A record is kept of all the fire departments in the State. This information includes the operating officers of the fire department, the amount of equipment, personnel, population protected, square miles served, and other pertinent information.

ARSON INVESTIGATION SECTION

The Tennessee Arson Investigation Section is the investigative arm of the State Fire Marshal's Office. This section investigates the cause, origin and circumstances of complex fires, explosions, and other criminal acts where a fire or explosion is involved, and investigates all deaths caused by fire or explosion.

This section plans and organizes Arson Investigation Programs within the state, conducts training programs and seminars for local and federal agencies involved in arson investigation and suppression. It also enforces state statutes on explosives, investigates fire insurance fraud claims, presents reports and information to District Attorneys General for prosecution, and makes arrests for violations where necessary.

Four district offices are maintained in the major cities for convenience and efficiency.

FIRE SAFETY SECTION

The Fire Safety Section is charged with the responsibility of enforcing state statutes, adopted codes (especially the "Life Safety Code") for the purpose of protecting the citizens of Tennessee from possible injury or death from fire. This Section is further charged under Department of Commerce and Insurance Regulations, Chapter 0780-2-3, Section 0780-2-3-.06, effective as of August 26, 1982, with inspecting all educational occupancies, detention and correctional occupancies and State buildings under construction to insure that the construction meets the equivalent standards of the Standard Building Code and the National Fire Codes. As of January 1, 1983, the inspection requirement was extended to include all business and/or residential occupancies three (3) or more stories in height, excluding those cities authorized to conduct reviews and inspections of new construction within their jurisdictions.

Amendments to Chapter 0780-2-3, Section 0780-2-3-.03, paragraphs 4 and 5 effective as of November 11, 1985, extend that responsibility to include the inspection of new construction of special purpose; industrial facilities over 40,000 square feet, high hazard industrial occupancies and covered malls as of January 1, 1986; and the inspection of two story residential occupancies having more than twelve units, effective July 1, 1986.

Chapter 0780-2-2, Section 0780-2-2-.01, sub-paragraph 1(a) and (b) were further amended to adopt the 1988 Edition of the Southern Building Code and National Fire Code references listed under Annex "A" thereto, effective August 1990.

During the calendar year of 1990 the Fire Safety Section concentrated on construction progress inspections of new construction of state owned and local governmental buildings, assemblies over 300 occupancy and buildings three or more floors in height. This section continued to conduct re-inspections and provide assistance to the school superintendents in the correction of hazards found during our school fire safety re-survey program that was initiated in 1985. By conducting revisit inspections of schools and providing assistance to the school superintendents and the school boards, the school systems have been able to reduce the points listed on the school survey computer printout. All school systems were in the process of correcting life safety code problems by new construction, major renovation and/or by use of their own maintenance crews.

The Fire Safety Section conducted a total of approximately 17,370 inspections, code conferences and associated activities for fire code compliance, including consultations with architects, contractors, builders, and owners either at on-site construction projects, architects' offices and/or Division of Fire Prevention offices.

During the calendar year 1990 the Fire Safety Section collected the following revenue for certificates of registration, licenses and LP gas, fire extinguisher certification and license:

TENNESSEE DIVISION OF CONSUMER AFFAIRS

The Division of Consumer Affairs is charged under the Consumer Protection Act of 1977 with protecting consumers and legitimate businesses from persons engaging in unfair or deceptive business practices. The Division's jurisdiction covers any trade or commercial transactions involving Tennessee consumers or businesses operating in the State of Tennessee.

CONSUMER COMPLAINT INVESTIGATION AND MEDIATION

Consumer complaints are assigned to a specific coordinator who then contacts the respondent business, assembles available information and attempts to mediate the complaint. If the complaint remains unresolved, the complainant is notified that he or she may have a right of private action under T.C.A. 47-18-109 or that the case may be referred to the Attorney General's office for possible legal action.

CONSUMER INQUIRIES

The Division receives thousands of inquiries from consumers each year. These questions are answered by Division staff, who base their answers on complaint records, information files, and knowledge of federal and state statutes.

INVESTIGATIONS INITIATED BY DIVISION

Occasionally, through requests from other agencies or from government officials, the Division will initiate an investigation to determine the status of a particular business or genre of business where it is felt to be in the best interests of the public to do so.

LEGAL ACTION

By statute the Division can request the state Attorney General's office to become involved in a case whenever the Division has reason to believe that a person is engaging in, has engaged in, or based upon information received from another law enforcement agency, is about to engage in any act or practice declared to be unlawful by the Consumer Protection Act.

The Division is available to lend assistance to any district attorney general who elects to criminally prosecute for violations of the Consumer Protection Act. Additionally, the Division works in conjunction with the U.S. Department of Justice and various federal agencies such as the Federal Trade Commission, the Food and Drug Administration, and the Consumer Product Safety Commission.

CONSUMER EDUCATION

Through communication with federal, state and local agencies and various other sources, the Division maintains up-to-date information files and compiles consumer tipsheets for use in providing information to consumers. A copy of the Tennessee Consumer Protection Act is also available free to consumers, as well as the Consumer Resource Handbook and other brochures.

Members of the staff accept speaking engagements on various topics of consumer education, and there is an on-going effort to provide information to consumers through media appearances and press releases. During 1990 thousands of Tennesseans were reached through speaking engagements and numerous media appearances.

CONSUMER LEGISLATION

The Division actively seeks information from other state and federal agencies regarding legislation and regulations affecting consumers and can provide this information to members of the legislature or others interested in sponsoring consumer legislation.

STATE BOARD OF ARCHITECTURAL AND ENGINEERING EXAMINERS

The State Board of Architectural and Engineering Examiners was originally created by Public Acts of 1921 to assure that only properly qualified persons shall practice architecture and engineering in this State. Public Acts of 1975 completely rescinded the old statutes governing the Board and replaced them with a new act. Again in 1979, sunset legislation brought about major revisions by an act to restructure the Board of Examiners for Architects and Engineers and the Board of Landscape Architects by combining such boards to create a single entity, to provide a termination date for such entity under the Governmental Entity Review Law, to provide for consumer representation on such entity, to amend Tennessee Code Annotated, Title 62, Chapters 2 and 23.

This Board consists of eight (8) members: three (3) registered architects, three (3) registered engineers, one (1) registered landscape architect, and one (1) member who is not engaged in the practice of architecture, engineering, or landscape architecture.

Uniform national examinations for each of the three respective professions are administered by the Board. Tennessee candidates passing scores rank with the national and regional averages.

TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE COMMISSION

State regulation of the real estate industry began in 1915, was revised in 1919, but only required the filing of an application, paying a fee, giving a bond and paying a privilege tax. This licensing was administered by the County Court Clerks. In 1951 the legislature created the Tennessee Real Estate Commission. The Commission Code has been amended and revised several times and is presently operating under the Tennessee Brokers Act of 1973, as amended. 1983 witnessed a continued rapid growth in the Time Share industry. Time Sharing, also known as interval ownership, enables a person to own his vacation home at a particular time of year without the cost and responsibility of full-time ownership. The new industry has been responsible for a growing number of consumer complaints. There are currently seven (7) Commissioners appointed by the Governor, each for a term of five (5) years. The two (2) public members cannot be real estate practitioners.

The basic responsibility of the Commission is to protect the public. This is accomplished by requiring applicants for licensure to attend pre-license education courses and to pass an examination. The affiliate broker (salesman) is required to work under the supervision of a broker for a minimum of two (2) years before applying for a broker license. The applicant for a broker license must complete the required pre-license education and pass the broker examination before being issued a broker license. The Commission initiates investigations of violations of the Broker Act and Commission Rules and Regulations, and conducts hearings to discipline licensees who commit violations. On January 1, 1988, additional pre-license education requirements went into effect for affiliate brokers and brokers. Affiliate brokers are now required to complete 16 hours of continuing education during each two (2) year licensing period. During the 1989 legislative session a bill was passed which established the Time Share salesperson license and another bill required real estate licensees to carry Errors and Omissions insurance.
